DAAD

information. Health insurance coverage (standard tariff of maximum 69 EUR per month) will be reimbursed after receipt of an invoice. If possible, the invoice should be submitted by 31.10 of each year so that it can still be paid out in the same year, otherwise the invoice may only be reimbursed in the following year. Please also note that the invoice should be submitted to the DAAD as soon as possible after receipt. In the case of very delayed submissions, it must be checked individually whether a payment/reimbursement is still possible. Prior to your departure you are strongly advised to inform yourself on the current COVID-19 situation in Benin and on the national and local safety regulations, such as entry requirements or quarantine measures. Please understand that any costs relating to quarantine cannot be covered by DAAD. For information, please contact your nearest Beninese Embassy, your host institution and/or the International Office of your host institution. Should your plans have changed, and you no longer want to travel to Benin because of the COVID-19 pandemic, please inform your DAAD contact person immediately.

The scholarship granted as part of the above funding programme is financed entirely from federal public funds.
